

CANNOT ACCEPT THE RESPONSIBILITY

GENERAL CHAIRMAN OF R. R. ORGANIZATIONS WILL REFER MATTER

Decide that Acceptance of Twelve Per Cent Reduction In Wages must be Decided By Men Themselves--Will be Referred to Membership for Referendum Vote.

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 5.—The responsibility for accepting the wage reductions that went into effect on all railroads in the country on July 1, cannot be accepted by the general chairman representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The general chairman of the five organizations so voted today in resolutions that not later than September 1, be referred to the membership thru the various general committees for acceptance or rejection.

The general chairman also authorized their chief executives to make arrangements if possible, to meet a committee of railway executives to be selected to meet a subcommittee of the five organizations to consider and if possible adjust all matters in controversy.

The chief executives and committees that are handling these matters for the five organizations were directed in the resolution "to clearly place the representatives of the railway corporations on record as to whether or not they will request further decreases in rates or compensation, the abolition of schedule rules or regulations, or the elimination of time and one half time.

The resolution further stated that the "wishes of the men as expressed by ballot shall determine the matter, in accordance with the laws of the respective organizations.

Announcement was made that the resolution will be considered by the properly constituted authorities of the other standard recognized railroad labor organizations and that it is expected they would announce their positions within the next forty-eight hours. The resolution said that the general chairman were "required not only to consider a wage reduction but in many instances railroad officers have served notice of their intention to abolish time and one half for overtime in road freight and yard service and in addition thereto to revise schedules for the benefit of the railroads by abolishing many rules and conditions, which in the aggregate mean the loss of much money and the creation of less favorable conditions for the various classes of employees.

Unrest Causes Concern. Much uneasiness and unrest exist which cause deep concern, add to the seriousness of the situation and establish a condition of affairs which makes it practically impossible for the general chairman to take the responsibility of deciding these important questions. The reason that we hold that no reduction in wages of any various classes is justifiable.

The resolutions directed the executive officers to call to the attention of those in authority "the fact that certain carriers, namely the Missouri and North Arkansas railway and the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway have disregarded decisions and flouted the authority of the United States Railroad Labor board. The general chairman said the resolutions were adopted "despite all these provocative circumstances, coupled with a common desire to refrain from taking any action that might precipitate a deplorable situation."

Approximately 1,500 delegates from system organizations of the Big Four brotherhoods, the shop crafts, the maintenance of way men, telegraphers, clerks and switchmen met here last Friday to canvass the situation that resulted from the twelve per cent wage reduction ordered by the United States Railroad Labor board.

Strike Talk. The strike talk was heard occasionally during the first and second day of the meetings, but the leaders counseled against such a course and the majority of delegates were prevailed upon to leave solution of the matter to a few of the big leaders. It is understood that the resolution adopted today contained the recommendations of the committee of five that was appointed to attempt to find a solution of the matter and to report

DEFENSE WITNESSES HEARD IN TRIAL OF FOREST HIGGINS

Close Friend of Dead Girl Tells of Noticing Mark on Forehead

(By The Associated Press)
CORRINA, Mich., July 5.—Testimony in conflict with the contention of the prosecution that Lucy Wittum was poisoned after being struck on the head and rendered unconscious, was given today by Mabel Merchant, 16 years old, a witness for the defense at the trial of Forest Higgins, Miss Wittum's fiancée, who is charged with murder.

The witness stated she had been a close friend of Miss Wittum for nearly a year prior to her death, March 29 last, and had frequently noticed a mark on her forehead, which the prosecution held was caused by a blow. Miss Wittum once said she presumed the mark had always been there, Miss Merchant said.

Miss Merchant also testified she had noticed rents in Miss Wittum's hat and clothes. Counsel for the state had asserted that the torn condition of Miss Wittum's clothing, when the body was found, indicated a struggle.

Extremely Despondent. During the month preceding Miss Wittum's death Miss Merchant said, the former had been extremely despondent.

Paul Baldwin, a Durand druggist who sold Miss Wittum acid, said the girl came to his store on March 30 and asked for "carbolic acid gas" explaining it was to be used in an automobile engine. Baldwin testified he told her there was no such commodity, and gave her acid instead.

Erna Wittum, 15, sister of the dead girl, testified Lucy had shown her a dollar saying Higgins gave it to her to buy "carbolic acid gas" for his automobile.

Higgins had told his fiancée, the witness said, that the "gas" would quiet his motor when he called for their proposed elopement.

FARMER KILLS WIFE THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Charles Fischer Beats Wife to Death With Neckyoke.

(By The Associated Press)
RHINELANDER, Wis., July 5.—A series of quarrels today culminated in Charles Fischer, aged 57, a farmer, living four miles from here beating his wife to death with a neckyoke, then hanging himself.

Fischer and a 15-year-old son of the woman by a previous marriage were driving a car to Rhinelander when they met Mrs. Fischer, who had been away for two days, returning to the farm. According to the boy Fischer grabbed a neckyoke from the wagonbox, jumped to the road and struck his wife several times over the head crushing her skull. When she fell bleeding and unconscious to the ground he continued pounding her and then checked her. With the help of his stepson, Fischer lifted the body into the wagon and drove back to the farm, half a mile away. The boy hurried to an adjoining farm and telephoned the authorities.

When officers arrived Fischer had disappeared and after an hour's search his body was found in a woods hanging from a tree.

CONDITION OF DISABLED MEN IS DEPLORABLE

Commander of Disabled Veterans so Tells Committee

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 5.—"Former service men" are lying today in substantially the same deplorable physical conditions as they were found upon the field of battle, National Commander Robert S. Marx of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War today asserted before a senate committee investigating government agencies dealing with former service men.

"There has never been a definite plan of hospitalization for our men presented by the United States Public Health Service," he continued.

Amendments to the Sweet bill recommended by his organization were recommended by Mr. Marx particularly those urging that former service men in training be kept on training pay while in hospitals, that compensation payments be not forfeited as disciplinary measures and that awarded compensation be not reduced without the men affected being given an opportunity to be heard.

Charges that insane patients in the government hospital at Marion, Ind., had been roughly treated were made by William A. Baugh of Chicago, a patient of that hospital who appeared before the committee. He asserted a broomstick was used as "a persuader" in one of the wards and that patients who desired liberties were compelled to work for favors by mopping, sweeping and cleaning.

"Much work is done by patients," he said, "for which attendants are paid."

BREAK IN RANKS OF REPUBLICANS ON TARIFF BILL

Fear of Wisconsin Offers Minority Report on Measure

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 5.—A break in the ranks of Republican members of the house ways and means committee, who drafted the tariff bill came today with the making public by Representative Fear of Wisconsin, of a minority statement charging his colleagues with disregard for party pledges and assailing them for proposing "fundamentally indefensible" provisions and rates of duty. The statement will be filed along with the majority report of the committee which it is expected will be submitted to the house tomorrow.

Mr. Fear's attack, while predicted on the "atrocities" of the dye control provisions, embraced many other features of the bill.

He referred to the argument that protection for the dye manufacturers was necessary for national defense and asked why it was necessary to assume that the nation would be thrown into a great war and at the same time "to grant practically exclusive rights of dye manufacture to a recognized monopoly."

Opposes Legislative Functions. Objection was voiced by Mr. Fear to provisions which would pass to the tariff commission, legislative functions, in the determination of what dye chemicals may or may not enter customs.

He declared, "the provisions, he declared, meant that the commission would be authorized to determine the character of a necessity to modern industrial life to determine quantity and quality of goods that may be imported and the price that shall be paid by the consumer."

"If this precedent is adopted," he continued, "then every tariff schedule may be made prohibitive in fact without the interposition of congress. A subordinate commission not responsive to the people may thus prevent all imports of commerce between nations and may also be arbiter of fortunes of those here and abroad."

ZIONISTS SAY NEW YORK IS WICKED CITY

All Residents Think of Pleasure, Money, Movies and Dancing—All Church Members Dance

ZION, Ill., July 5.—New York is a very wicked city, much worse than Chicago, according to the report of two Zion angels who returned today after more than five months spent in trying to show the metropolis the error of its ways.

"All they think is pleasure, money, movies and dancing," the two deaconesses, Mrs. Shehorn and Miss Buhman reported sorrowfully.

"They are dancing all the time. The church members too, they all dance."

The two reported that during their stay in New York they sold 12,500 pieces of Zion literature. They expected to make another effort to convert New York after attending Zion's annual Feast of Tabernacles.

Chief Marsh declared the counterfeiting scheme consisted of raising ten dollar notes.

AGRICULTURAL BLOC DEFEATS PROPOSAL FOR ADJOURNMENT

Resolution Offered by Senator Lodge is Voted Down—He Explains That it is Only Period During Summer When Senators Can Get Away—To Take up Soldier Bonus

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 5.—The agricultural bloc of the senate today caused the defeat of a proposal for adjournment of the senate next Saturday for four weeks, while the house is considering the tariff bill. By a vote of 27 to 24 an adjournment resolution offered by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, was voted down. It was supported by a majority of Republicans and five Democrats, but was beaten by sixteen Republicans and eleven Democrats. Nearly all of the opponents are aligned with the agricultural bloc.

Demands for farmer relief legislation featured the discussion.

Senator Lodge said he had been requested by many senators to propose the adjournment for the only period, he explained, when it would be possible for senators to be away this summer.

Chairman Norris and Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, of the agriculture committee urged immediate action to aid agriculture interests and led the opposition to adjournment.

To Take Up Soldier Bonus. After defeating adjournment, the senate agreed to proceed tomorrow with the soldier's bonus legislation.

Senator Norris urged early action on this bill to create a one hundred million dollar government corporation with power to issue one billion dollars of tax exempt bonds to aid exportation of farm products. He was supported by Senator Simmons, who suggested that private bankers, opposed the bill.

Senator Underwood declared and Senator Norris conceded that it would take several months for organization of the proposed corporation.

Senator Underwood declared it would not help in financing this year's crops.

Reorganization of the nation's finances from a war to a peace basis was asserted by Senator Underwood to be the prime function of congress in the extra session. He urged that tax revision be given priority and declared tariff revision to be only a minor item.

MAY BE ABLE TO BUY AUTO MADE OUT OF COTTON

Price of Gasoline Caused Decline in Automobile Industry

CHICAGO, July 5.—Automobiles built of a composite of cotton and operated with coal dust for fuel are a possibility of the future, according to Roger W. Babson, statistician, who is visiting here.

"The principal factor in the decline of the automobile business has been the steady increase in the price of gasoline," Mr. Babson said. "The car of the future will be run by other fuel. Already the use of coal dust has passed the experimental stage. In my opinion it will be used extensively within a short time."

"Lighter cars must be manufactured to cut down the cost of production and maintenance. A composition of cotton, formaldehyde and glue is being used to produce a material that may solve the problem."

Mr. Babson declared that general business conditions would not improve until late winter as the "buyers' strike" was "still on." Eighty per cent of the original purchasers of liberty bonds still hold them, he said.

ADMIRAL SIMMS UNDAUNTED

Admiral Simms was among the Fourth of July orators and advocated a rule that would make it possible for naval officers to criticize government or department methods. Evidently the admiral, though reprimanded, is not of penitent and contrite spirit.

DISAGREE ON POLICY

The proposal of Senator Norris for a $100,000,000 corporation financed by the government is the disposal of farm products does not have the approval of Secretary Hoover. If anyone should have a practical idea of how such a corporation would function, that man is Mr. Hoover, with his world wide knowledge of market and production conditions.

UNDERWOOD SEES DIFFERENCE

There are some otherwise apparently intelligent citizens who assert that there is no longer any difference between the two great political parties, but here is Senator Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, floor leader of the Democratic side of the upper house, declaring that "the old-time leavages between the two great political parties has not changed." He was writing of the tariff question. Senator Underwood will find within the next few years that, although the issue between the parties is unchanged, public opinion has changed greatly, particularly in his section of the country.

THE MULTIPLICITY OF LAWS

Lieut. Gov. Sterling made a significant, if not a new, statement when he said that there are too many laws on the statute books now, and that the best thing that could happen to the state is not the enactment of new laws but the abolishment of many that are now obsolete. The lieutenant governor further suggested that adjournment of the legislature for five years would be an excellent thing for the state. Mr. Sterling probably did not mean exactly what he said about adjournment but he told the truth in saying that there are too many laws. People in these latter years seem to have the idea that all wanted good things can be brought to pass by legislation. It is true also that there are too many obsolete laws now on the statute books and many a man breaks the laws inadvertently because he is not aware of their existence. But this faulty condition is not true of Illinois alone. The same thing occurs in all the other states.

THE PAY OF MINISTERS

Figures compiled for the New Era Magazine, published by the Presbyterian church, show how little paid are ministers as a profession.

Less than 1 per cent of all the ministers in the United States are in the group having a salary above the $3,000 mark. The few who are in that class and still feel that they could make more money in some other line of work can feel quite contented by comparing themselves with the 99 per cent.

Generally speaking, the minister who is engaged in his work because of the salary opportunities has just as well quit and take up some other line of activity.

AWAY WITH APOLOGIES FOR JACKSONVILLE

One of the important notes sounded by speakers at the Fourth of July observance was the need for boosting Jacksonville. It would indeed be a fine thing for every resident of the city to get the habit of boosting. This need not be done in a senseless or prodigious way, for boosting can be done on the basis of the facts as they are. The habit of continually speaking good words "a behalf of Jacksonville on the part of all citizens would with passing time accomplish great results.

There have in the past been too many apologists for the city—people who have halfheartedly conceded that Jacksonville while a good home town hasn't much chance in a business way. There is no reason for making such apologies and if Jacksonville citizens will but study to develop the habit of testifying to the good things they know about their home city, something in the way that Californians do, "results will tell."

THOSE LOCAL PRICES

The accusation is sometimes made that prices are higher in Jacksonville than elsewhere—that merchants are thus driving people away to other cities. These charges are usually made without any facts or figures to support them. It is interesting to note the comparative figures recently published on the cost of soda fountain drinks in Jacksonville and five other cities.

The prices which are charged here are lower than in any of the other cities and in the group are places both larger and smaller than Jacksonville. A special campaign is now being carried on by Mr. Poole, food representative of the city government of Chicago, in the endeavor to bring Chicago prices down to the figures which already prevail in Jacksonville.

VARYING VIEWS ON SPECIAL ENFORCEMENT FUNDS

The controversy between Gov. Small and Attorney General Brundage over appropriations is creating quite a stir. Mr. Rinker of Carlinville who thinks it is a shame that the governor cut off the special prohibition enforcement fund from the attorney general's budget, offers the idea of a volunteer fund to make good the deficiency. There are, however, some entirely consistent advocates of dry laws who believe that there should be no appropriation for the enforcement of this law, any more than there are special funds for the enforcement of other laws.

It is manifestly the duty of officers of cities, towns and counties to enforce the prohibition law whether or not there are special state agencies to help them. In many communities doubtless such enforcement will be very effective and it should be borne in mind too that the federal government has made an allotment to the state, and the services of quite a numerous list of federal officers will be available.

Several years ago, Mr. McCormick made his home in Jacksonville at the home of Mrs. Deatherage. Before coming here, he lived at Versailles, where he was postmaster for twelve years. He was 88 years old at the time of his death.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

MAIL FACILITIES

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois State Historical Society

A person of this generation, or the rising ones would find it hard to comprehend the great development in the United States mail service since the work was seriously taken in hand by the government.

Stamps may seem quite an unimportant feature of the system. But the original way of letting the receiver pay the freight on his mail—letters—was annoying and inconvenient. The price might be twenty-five cents for a single letter, whether prepaid or on delivery and even that amount counted with most people in old times. One consequence was that when people found some one was going where the writer had several friends that he or she would sit up half the night to write the long letters of the time, to save postage, and to load down the outgoing with letters; worse than all charge him with the inconvenience of delivering the missives. Stamps cost as much as ten cents or more, when they were first issued. They were crude in design, and they had no paste on the back. Small post offices were not very well supplied and the local officials were apt to be incompetent and independent, if not insulting to patrons of the office. One reason being that the postmaster was poorly paid, and the office was secondary to the store in which it was generally kept.

Mails Infrequent

President Sturtevant said that when he came here, in 1829, Jacksonville was a town of about 600 people. It had one mail a week from Springfield, carried on horseback; and during the Deep Snow, "to bring that thru the snow required more energy than small boys in those days were masters of." Again Mr. Sturtevant said of that time, "Our mail communication with the rest of the world was quite interrupted for several weeks continuously." As things improved, there were one or two mails a week from St. Louis, via Alton, Jerseyville, Carrolton and White Hall. Or to and from Naples, Winchester, Mercedosis or Beardstown. But they were very irregular, some no oftener than

WELL KNOWN SCOTT COUNTY RESIDENT DIES

Miss Elizabeth Hawk Passed Away At Early Hour Tuesday Morning—Funeral of Mrs. Nancy See Held at Christian Church—Other News from Winchester.

Winchester, July 5.—The death of Miss Elizabeth Hawk occurred at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning at the family home on South Mechanic street. The deceased had been in failing health for some time and became in a more serious condition five days since. She was able to be down town just a few days prior to her final illness, and the news of her death will therefore come as a shock to her friends. Everything possible was done for her by her devoted sister, Mrs. Amanda Barnes, and other relatives, but to no avail.

The parents of the deceased passed away many years ago, one sister also preceding her in death but a short time since. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Barnes in the home and Mrs. George McLaughlin, also one brother, Lincoln Hawk of White Hall. There are many other relatives in and near Winchester.

Miss Hawk and her sister were the managers of the Transit House for twenty-seven years and thus were well known in the entire community. The deceased will be greatly missed by relatives and friends and her death will be sincerely regretted by all.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. The funeral of the late Mrs. Nancy See was held at the Christian church at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Elmore officiating. Music was furnished by the choir of the church of which the deceased had long been a member. The bearers were Abner Suter, Thomas Hamilton, Ray Lankford, Harry Lyman, Guy Paul and John Keemer.

once a week, and the letters poorly forwarded or delivered. Papers were but seldom taken, and the pioneers were generally short of news in a business way, from their friends, or concerning the state, nation or outside world.

Dr. Peck, in his "Gazetteer of Illinois," said in 1834, "Were a communication opened between the navigable waters, the distance from New York to St. Louis would be passed in from sixteen to twenty days." That meaning by the lakes and the Illinois river, etc.

In 1832

The Illinois Patriot of Feb. 23, 1832, published here, had a letter from Quincy, addressed to a gentleman here, desiring the interest of our people in trying to secure better mail facilities thru Congress. The signers had been appointed to correspond, by a public meeting and were Jas. H. Ralston, Thomas Ford and Robert Tillson. The "great mail" from Vandalia for Quincy, by which it, and Jacksonville received its eastern and most of its southern mail, came to Quincy via Springfield, Jacksonville, Carrolton and Alton (in Pike county) making a distance of two hundred and forty miles. The distance in a straight line by way of Hillsboro and Jacksonville was only one hundred and sixty miles. The mail that way would reach Quincy in four days, while by the present route it took nine days. What would shorten the distance to Quincy would also do so for Jacksonville.

By 1840, Jacksonville had a daily mail. A letter from Philadelphia cost 25 cents and one from Quincy called for 12 cents. Sometimes the person to whom a letter was sent would not have the cash to bail it out, and it might lay in the office for several months. One reason being because the government required cash, and would not take coin skins or beeswax.

It was not till after the years 1855 or 1860 that mail carriage and delivery became reasonably prompt, and even then many offices were very poorly conducted. But after the war matters were made better, and in Grant's last four years great improvement was made in the speed of carrying mails.

with the former's mother, Mrs. Electa Watson, in Winchester. Miss Maurine Mader arrived home Monday morning from a northern trip to enjoy a vacation visit with relatives.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

It was sixty years ago yesterday forenoon that Col. U. S. Grant marched his 21st regiment of Illinois Volunteers thru Jacksonville "on the line" of State street.

Probably not a citizen then in this place knew the coming man, certainly this writer had never heard of him.

Fortunately for Grant, when the war department took no notice of his modest application for a place, and his native state had no use for him, there was a Jacksonville man who affixed his signature to Grant's commission.

As is well known, the soldiers bivouacked at our Fair Grounds, and spent the night in "Allinson's Woods" seven miles west.

"You can always size up a circus by its 'bulls,'" says the old circus man—"bulls," by the way, being the improved circus vernacular for elephants.

While this is not an infallible rule, the elephant is an important factor in the modern tent show, just as he contributed in no small degree to the pageantry of Old Rome and the circus spectacles of Ancient Greece.

The John Robinson circus, which is to display its wonders in this city Tuesday, July 12, announces that it makes a specialty of its trained elephants. And, according to all accounts, its big pachyderms are as multitudinous as they are educatedly clever. The elephants are utilized in the big spectacular entree, which introduces the performance, they are presented in a series of stunts in the three rings, they make a brave showing in the menagerie, and they play an important and popular role in the "sun-bright and scintillatingly resplendent free street parade" that ushers in circus day.

A novel angle in the John Robinson elephants offering is the fact that the three herds are directed by as many clever girls—fearless and agile young women, who are said to display an aptness in handling their big charges that mere men rarely acquire. Under their direction the elephants are said to go through their difficult performances with the tractability of burros. There are twenty performing pachyderms with the show.

CARPENTIER DRINKS TOAST TO DEMPSEY

Says He is the Greatest Boxer in the World—Thanks Press and Public for His Great Reception.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Georges Carpentier and Francois Desamps, his manager, were guests tonight at a dinner given to visiting French and British sport writers by the Editor and Publisher.

Tribute was paid to the sportsmanship of the American press and public by Ben Benson of the London Daily Telegraph, speaking for the British writers and Victor Breyer, boxing critic of Echo De Sports.

Carpentier, responding to a toast in his honor, tendered one to Jack Dempsey, his conqueror. "For the past ten years it has been my ambition to box for the world's championship," he said, "but on Saturday I met the man whom I think the greatest boxer in the world. I do not wish to deny that I was under great emotion when I entered the ring as I saw about me great multitudes of American people and when I heard their ovation I thought they were all French. I wish to extend all my thanks to the American people and especially to the press for the manner in which I have been treated and I now drink toast to the health of Jack Dempsey."

Before entering the ring Saturday, Carpentier told his manager that if he could not win he desired to "go down with colors flying." That Desamps said: "We talked it over and Carpentier said there should be no sponge; he said to let the loser go down with a blow on the jaw."

Percy Bullion of the London Daily Telegraph and president of the Association of Foreign Press Correspondents in the United States, was toastmaster.

MAN FROM HOME OF BULL FIGHTS TALKS

President of Spanish Academy in Madrid, Spain, Expresses Opinion of Dempsey-Carpentier Fight.

MADRID, July 5.—The president of the Spanish Academy, Jose Ortega Munilla, gives his views in the newspaper A. B. C. on the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. "The victory of Dempsey over Carpentier," he writes, "constitutes the culmination of triumphant brutality. The second of July, 1921, will be famous in annals of barbarity."

"Two men sell their health and dignity to a curious multitude which pays them to destroy themselves with punches," continues Senor Munilla.

"They do not fight because they hate. Salaried combatants represent the most infamous prostitution; those who speculate thereon represent the vilest lucre, while those attending represent the stupidest cruelties."

"The notable publicity given to this seems to indicate an intention to export similar spectacles in Europe. We lack just that."

TRY TO KEEP WOMEN OFF OF KABER JURY

CLEVELAND, O., July 5.—Chances for even one woman to sit on the jury that is to try Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber for the murder of her husband, Daniel P. Kaber, two years ago, were remote tonight. Eleven men were in the tentative panel.

There were six women and six men in the panel when it was tentatively filled soon after court reopened today. All six women later were excused by peremptory challenge of Mrs. Kaber's counsel who have asserted they will use all of their sixteen peremptory challenges left when court adjourned for the day, and the state two. Of about forty prospective jurors from which to draw to complete the panel, there are only two women.

Eighty-six jurors have been examined. Judge Maurice Bernon who is presiding in the case announced this evening that he expected the jury to be completed tomorrow and that the taking of testimony might be started then also.

Judge Bernon grew impatient at the involved questions being asked prospective jurors by counsel and took upon himself the task of making the preliminary inquiries, over Mr. Corrigan's objection. Here is a sample of the plain questions asked by the judge:

"Do you feel that you could give both sides a fifty-fifty deal?"

WILL FORTIFY INLAND SEA.

Tokio, July 6.—Military authorities have decided, says the Asahi, to fortify the south entrance of the Inland Sea by constructing fortresses at Saganoseki, peninsulas fronting the Bungo Channel between Kyushu and Shikoku, it was the policy of fortress readjustment.

An artillery regiment will be stationed at Saganoseki. The district then will be one of the most important defensive positions of Japan.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Boise, Idaho, July 5.—While Kate Richards O'Hare was on her way tonight to Denver to confer with Jake Sheppard, criminal lawyer, relative to pushing the case against her alleged abductors in Twin Falls, Idaho, her husband, F. P. O'Hare, sent another telegram to Governor Davis demanding that the governor give him assurance of protection for his wife and daughter in Idaho.

HUGHES CONFERS WITH HARDING ON PEACE RESOLUTION

Officials Refuse to Discuss Direct Effect of Resolution

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Secretary Hughes conferred late today with President Harding upon the latter's return from Raritan, N. J., where he had spent the week end, but no announcement was made concerning the subject of discussion. It is understood, however, that the question of issuing a proclamation supplementing the congressional resolution ending the state of war with Germany and Austria was considered.

There were indications that before a decision is reached in the matter, the attorney general may be asked for an opinion as to whether it is necessary to issue such a proclamation to protect the government against any claims arising out of the war, or to terminate wartime legislation. Officials continued reluctant to discuss the direct effect of the resolution or of the steps that would be taken towards a restoration of diplomatic relations with Germany. The withdrawal of the troops from the Rhine was pointed to as a question for the president to consider.

It was pointed out, however, that congress clearly indicated in the peace resolution its intention to reserve to the United States all rights guaranteed either in the armistice agreement or in the treaty of Versailles.

OPPOSE EDUCATION IN WELFARE DEPARTMENT

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 5.—Opposition to the inclusion of education as one of the sub-divisions in the proposed department of public welfare in the federal government was expressed by George D. Strayer of New York, chairman of the legislative committee of the National Education association at tonight's session of its convention here.

The legislative committee Dr. Strayer reported insists that if the department of public welfare is created, education should be taken out of it, that friends of education might be permitted to continue their efforts for an independent department of education.

Dr. Strayer reported that the committee had met with "powerful influences that were intended to defeat our purposes" in supporting the Smith-Towner bill before the last session of congress.

The Smith-Towner bill provides for the creation of a separate federal department of education. "We have preserved our organization," Dr. Strayer said, "and we have continued our efforts. Members of the congress came to respect the teachers of the country as never before. Members of our profession have come to realize that by working together we can become a great influence for the highest ideals of our country."

A feature of today's program of the National Academy of Visual Instruction was a letter from Thomas A. Edison, congratulating members of the academy on their work in spreading the use of moving pictures in education.

Judge Ben L. Lindsey of Denver was one of the principal speakers at tonight's general session.

ASKS PROTECTION FROM KU KLUX KLAN

SIoux FALLS, S. D., July 5.—Tom Ayres, state manager of the Non-Partisan League today telegraphed Gov. W. H. McMaster, asking protection from the Ku Klux Klan, a chapter of which has been organized in South Dakota.

Ayres in his telegram said: "I am informed that the Ku Klux Klan, a secret oath-bound organization has effected an organization in South Dakota to fight the Non-Partisan League and other progressive organizations. It is to be presumed it will pursue its summary methods in this state. I demand that you protect the property and lives of South Dakota people from this conspiracy against the peace and dignity of this state and use your peace officials to bring the organizers of the gang to justice."

UNVEIL BUST OF WILLIAM T. STEAD

New York, July 5.—A tablet and bust of the late William T. Stead, who lost his life on the Titanic, was unveiled at Ninety-first street and Fifth avenue today. It is a replica of one erected on the Thames embankment in London by English and American newspapermen in honor of the distinguished journalist.

Melville E. Stone, counselor of the Associated Press, delivered an address in which he praised Stead's work for international peace and described his achievements as a journalist, every S. Bullen, of the London Daily Telegraph, presented the tablet to the city.

PROMINENT MEN ARE INDICTED

New York, July 5.—Indictments charging Elliott Norton, lawyer and author; Anthony J. Drezel, Jr., of Philadelphia; Louis R. Jennings and Harry Brodsky, with selling unauthorized stock of the Standard Film Industries, Inc., were returned by the grand jury last Thursday, it became known today, when Norton was arrested and held in five thousand dollars bail. He pleaded not guilty. Mr. Norton, son of the late Charles Elliott Norton, professor of history of art, was attorney for the company.

GAINS 20 POUNDS AND BACK ON JOB

Hadn't Been Able to Work For Six Months Before He Began Taking Hanlac.

"Before I got hold of Tanlac I had not been able to work for six months, but in four weeks after I started taking it I was back on the job and I haven't missed a day since," said William Clemmons, of 344 Wright St., LaSalle, Ill.

"About five years ago my health began to fail and my troubles gradually increased until finally I had to give up my job and quit work. My stomach just seemed to stay upset all the time, and often for as long as three days at a time I could not keep a thing down and, naturally, I began to fall off in weight. My head ached continually and sometimes there was a pain that extended from the back of my neck clear down my spinal column. My nerves finally collapsed almost completely and I had regular spells of nervousness that nearly set me wild. I had to spend most of my time in bed and at last was told that if a turn for the better didn't take place soon I couldn't last much longer."

"My brother told me how a neighbor of his had been restored to health by Tanlac and advised me to try it. By the end of the first week I was feeling much better. From then on I improved each day and it wasn't long until all my troubles were gone. I went back to work and ever since then I have been feeling as fine as I ever felt in my life. I am eating anything and everything I please and am never bothered with my stomach or nerves or anything else. I gained twenty pounds and am in as good health as anybody could want to be."

Many such letters are being published in this paper from day to day, and it is to any woman's advantage who suffers from female ailments in any form to give this old-fashioned root and herb remedy a trial.—Adv.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MET TUESDAY NIGHT

Regret Expressed at Loss of Miss
Hammond of the Open Air
School — Will Advise for Coal.

The board of education met last night and transacted regular business. The secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for coal; the settlement with the contractors for the new high school building was deferred; the resignation of Miss Laura Hammond was received with regret; tax levy was ordered.

The Proceedings
The board met in regular session with all present except members Metcalf and Rapp; President Lippincott in the chair. The chairman read a letter from Superintendent Perrin, who stated he would be present at the next regular meeting and sooner if needed. The payroll, $574.20, was ordered paid. In the absence of the superintendent many bills could not be passed on and were laid over. Some bills which didn't need his endorsement were ordered paid.

The treasurer advised the board that he had just received some money from the county superintendent of schools and would make his report later.

A tax levy of $125,000 for educational purposes and $50,000 for buildings and repairs was ordered certified to the proper officials. Messrs. English Brothers were present. They are the contractors for the construction of the new high school building. They presented a certificate that the work was done and asked for their money. The board decided that the architect should meet with the board and contractors.

and go over all the details and settlement then could be had.

The secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for coal. A. J. Hoover was present and suggested the wisdom of buying the two residence properties immediately north of the Washington school grounds that the board might own the block complete. The lot on the corner of Grove and Kosevick could be had for $2,000 it was stated and the other on the corner of Grove and Fayette for $1,200. Though it would be desirable, the board was unable to see the way to spend the money at present and no action.

Miss Hammond's Resignation

The resignation of Miss Laura Hammond, principal of the open air school, was read. It caused a great deal of comment. It was stated that she had the strong endorsement of the Anti-Tuberculosis League which was not to be done to retain her as it was felt she had shown rare ability in that position and had earned the esteem and appreciation of all who knew anything of her work and were ready to give her a fair deal. The lady had felt she was hardly treated fairly. It was suggested that at the proper time a raise of $200 would have retained her but the feeling seemed to prevail that she was so situated that she would have to take what the board would give her and the mistake had been done to retain her but she said she had decided to go. It was remarked that she had shown much capability in the work of the open air school. Too often the board had, for a small sum, permitted some of the best teachers to go and then had had the pleasure of going out and hiring others for more than would have sufficed to retain the good teachers. The secretary was instructed to send Miss Hammond a letter stating the great appreciation the board had for her work and deep regret at her leaving. It was stated that our open air school had the reputation of being the best in the state outside of Chicago.

The matter of a Ford car for the truant officer was brought up and the question was asked if the board would pay a third of the cost. The lady is truant officer, probation officer, overseer of the poor and has to make long trips. It was suggested that a public nurse needed a car just as much as the board was not in financial condition to act. A bill of Wilson and Butler for legal services was ordered paid. Adjourned.

SMALL FILES VETOES FOR TWELVE BILLS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 5.—Twelve bills bearing the objections or post-adjournment vetoes of Governor Small were filed today with Secretary of State Emerson. This leaves in the hands of the governor twelve more bills upon which he has until July 12 to consider. If the governor neither signs nor vetoes them they will become laws, the date of their effectiveness depending upon the courts.

When Governor Small went to Chicago he took with him the Thon bill providing for segregation of mentally defective prisoners. A hearing by Chicago authorities is considered likely before the governor finally acts upon the measure.

The Thon bill is favored by Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court, and States Attorney Crowe, who lobbied for its passage.

Bills "vetoed" by Governor Small and filled with the objections today included the Lyon bill prohibiting advertisements for cures or treatment of venereal diseases; the Smith bill increasing salaries of assistants and employees of the Chicago municipal court; the Cornwell bill providing for the examination and licensing of architects; the Emerson bill providing a country tax for the payment of road bonds and the Buck drainage bills which prohibited commissioners from holding jobs in two adjoining districts.

B. & O. MECHANICS RETURN TO WORK

Baltimore, Md., July 5.—The third furlough of workers at the Mount Clare shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad came to an end today when fifteen hundred mechanics, who have been idle for more than three weeks, were recalled to take up work which was interrupted by the third furlough announcement since January 1st. They returned to their tasks it is said at lower wages than those received before the last lay off. At the same time 450 employees of the Cumberland shops of the company were recalled to duty.

AMERICAN MINISTER RETURNS TO COLOMBIA

Washington, July 5.—Hofman Philip, American minister to Colombia, sailed today to return to his post at Bogota, after having been called to the state department early in the spring to assist in the final discussions which attended the perfecting of the Colombian treaty. It was reported at the time of Mr. Philip's return that his visit had to do with certain references made to him in the report of the senate committee which investigated the treaty question. This proved to be erroneous. The sole reason for his return it developed was to attend to the affairs of the Colombian mission.

WHITE PAPER IS ISSUED BY ENGLAND

Comes in Form of Note from Lord Curzon to Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States.

LONDON, July 5.—A white paper on the oil situation was given out today. It is in the form of a note which Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, sent to Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States under date of April 1, which enclosed for the ambassador information a reply to his inquiries, a memorandum compiled by the British petroleum department giving statistics on the oil resources of every part of the British Empire and showing an extremely small oil production and the absence of any general policy for the exclusion of foreigners from the oil producing areas.

The memorandum says that in vast areas where there are no restrictions, no foreign country has attempted to explore for oil, except in British North Borneo, while in Canada and Trinidad where federal restrictions are in effect, capital has been waiting for several years.

"No real parallel can fairly be drawn between the British Empire with its small and scattered production and a country like the United States, producing two-thirds of the world's output within her home territory."

POLITICIANS TALK ABOUT PATRONAGE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 5.—With Gov. Small in Chicago today, capital gossip turned into lanes of discussion over patronage soon to be distributed by the state administration. Announcement of some new appointments was expected soon after the governor's return to Chicago.

Two additional members of the new Illinois Commerce Commission, the personnel of the tax commission, a director of finance, nine assistant department directors and division heads are among the fat jobs yet to be distributed before some new positions created by the general assembly.

These latter include the jobs in the new division of poultry husbandry made a part of the department of agriculture. The job of division chief is generally expected to go to Abner G. Murray, secretary of the state senate. Mr. Murray, who is a fancier and breeder of pure bred chickens, is closely associated with Senator Wheeler of Springfield, who allied himself with the state administration and was largely responsible for Mr. Murray's replacement of James A. Paddock as secretary of the senate.

When the new division was created it immediately became state house talk that Mr. Murray would get the job as division chief.

GIVES VIEWS ON PROHIBITION

Editor Journal: Some time ago I stepped into one of Jacksonville's men's furnishing houses and while making a small purchase of one of the salesmen, was interested in the conversation of two or three other clerks standing near by. They were discussing nation-wide prohibition and there were the usual diverse opinions.

Without any effort to overear their conversation I did hear one relate what he said a Chicago traveling salesman had told him, which was about as follows: "Most of the big concerns employing men are dissatisfied with the law, claiming that when the men could take their week's pay on Saturday afternoon and evening and have their beer and a good time and then have Sunday to sober up, they were ready for duty on Monday morning. But now, they are more or less disgruntled and not willing workers, as they were under the more privileged custom of using their money and spare time as they chose."

Unless this salesman was traveling for and talking for a brewery or brewing interests, he surely spilled a mouthful of the rankest and back date propaganda imaginable. I do not wish to use your columns to air an opinion on prohibition, but would like for the young men who heard the traveling man's story to read this.

I am employed in Chicago myself and by one of the largest corporations in the United States, employing thousands in Chicago alone. I have been with them more than thirty years and have been in position to know conditions under open saloons and under prohibition.

A few years ago there were so many men who would not show up on pay day and for a few days after, that what was known as a dependable or non-drinking man, had to make arrangements ahead of time to be excused at drinking times for it was well known the drinkers would not show up. Reprimands, suspensions, even dismissals did not seem to remedy the condition. Temptations being on every hand, saloons in the same building, two to six in every block for blocks around their place of employment, there was practically no limit to drinking and carousing.

Briefly I will cite a case or two of which I know. One was that of a good man, hard worker but who was a periodical and never saved a dollar up to the ending of the flagrant temptations. He now has a good home almost paid for, has better health than in years, and is looked upon as a valued citizen. Another man not many months after prohibition became effective had a savings account of about $700. This man lived in a down town hotel. The money he had where he spent most of his money and lots of his time around payday, has been converted into a soft drink parlor.

The proprietor met this working man after he had his savings account and jokingly said to him: "Let me see that bank book." (calling his name.) The book was produced and indicated some $700. The ex-bankkeeper said: "Now don't you know under regular conditions that money belongs to me?" The owner of the book answered him: "Yes, but under the conditions which I hope will always prevail it belongs to me. These two men do not want a return of the open saloons, neither do their employers. The interior of a savings bank to them was a stranger, as it is to thousands of others under open saloons. These men with hundreds of others are now known as dependables and are termed 'the men who came back.'"

Not only were they mending their health by drink but after each layoff they always tried to work double time to make up the loss, overworked sick and "broke" can it be expected they would be as valuable employees as they are now?

An Unbiased Observer.

MUNDY CONFESSES TO REVOLTING CRIME

SCOTT COUNTY MAN TELLS OF KILLING CHILD. Makes No Special Show of Remorse — Is Transferred to Sangamon County Jail — Funeral of Beatrice Kincaid Will Be Held Today.

Winchester, July 5. — Edward Mundy, arrested for the murder of ten-year-old Beatrice Kincaid, made a signed confession of his guilt in the Scott county jail. Because of the feeling against the prisoner and to avoid any possibility of trouble, Sheriff Fritz Haskell and Deputy Thomas took him to Springfield Tuesday afternoon and placed him in the Sangamon county jail.

The crime for which Mundy has confessed his guilt was one of the most revolting in the history of Scott county. In his confession, made to State's Attorney McElrath and Sheriff Haskell, the man without much show of feeling, told of enticing the little girl to a pasture near the barn. After attacking her, to prevent her screams he choked her to death and then placed the body in the watering trough where it was found.

Mundy joined the searchers for the little girl after she was missed from the family group, but because of blood stains on his clothing and his general actions suspicion soon attached to him and his arrest followed. It was not until hours after his arrest that the man confessed to the awful crime.

Mundy, who is about 37 years of age, has worked on farms in Scott county for a long period and had been employed by Mr. Kincaid for several years. It was known that he did not have a high grade of mentality, but he had never before been accused of any sort of misconduct. Naturally the people of Winchester and Scott county are greatly shocked by the happening and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Janies Kincaid, long ranking among the most respected citizens of the county, have the very deep sympathy of a great many friends.

The funeral service will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the residence four miles east of Winchester. The service will be in charge of Rev. Mr. Corrie of the Methodist church.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT LITERBERRY HOME

Harold Lee Daniels Celebrates Birthday in Pleasant Manner — Other Literberry News of Interest.

Literberry, July 5. — On Friday night Harold Lee Daniels was invited to Oakdale Farm to visit over night with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Liter.

Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Arthur Liter brought this young man home and he was completely surprised when he beheld his door-yard filled with little boys and girls seated on camp chairs, all looking nice, and all smiling as Harold Lee stepped from his aunt's car. He was informed this was his birthday and that they all had come to celebrate with him. Harold looked funny and it was some time before he realized just what they meant.

There were games and plays of all kinds, dear to the little children, with lots of fun and laughter. There was the usual angel food cake with pink icing and seven candles; there were presents great and small with a handful of silver coins to go into the savings bank, for Harold Lee.

Some older people, too, were present and enjoyed the afternoon just as much as the children. Plenty of ice cream and cake were served at 4 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. James Petefish and Mrs. Oscar Petefish went to Chicago Saturday to spend the Sabbath and see the sights.

Newton Braner and family of Virginia were in Litererry Sunday calling on friends.

Mrs. Isaac Reeves, of Jacksonville, came out of Literberry Saturday, and made a visit at Harmony cottage.

Bertha Grave Olroyd, who is staying in Jacksonville now, attended the Baptist Sunday school Sunday morning and visited home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rexroat and family, Mrs. H. H. Rexroat, all of Sunny Brook Farm were driving on our streets Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Daniels has been ill with rheumatism since Saturday night.

SOON TO BREAK GROUND FOR HOSPITAL ADDITION

CONSTRUCTION WORK AT OUR SAVIOR'S HOSPITAL WILL BEGIN.

Contractor's Representatives were Here Tuesday Surveying the Ground — New Building Will Be Four Stories High and Equipped in Most Modern Way.

Representatives of V. Jobst and Sons, Peoria building contractors, were in Jacksonville Tuesday, surveying the ground for the new addition to Our Savior's hospital. They expect to begin actual construction some time this week.

The new structure is to be added to the west end of the present building. It will be four stories high and will extend back to Court street. The use of brick, stone and concrete as building materials will make it entirely fireproof. About sixty new beds will be added to the present hospital facilities.

The basement will be devoted to class, lecture and demonstration rooms for the training school. There will also be dining rooms for the sisters, nurses and help.

The fourth floor will consist of two major operating rooms and operating rooms for eye, ear, nose and throat and for minor surgery. This floor will also contain dressing rooms for doctors and nurses. There will be doctors' consulting rooms, an X-ray room and pathological rooms.

The extra rooms in the new building will allow a number of changes in the old one. The present operating room will be changed to an obstetrical room, and the third floor will be entirely for obstetrics. Diet kitchens and utilities rooms will be in the old building.

In the new addition, fire escapes and all that is necessary for a large institution will be installed. While the sisters expect to build most economically, the hospital will be modern in every way.

Our Savior's hospital now draws patients from a radius of seventy-five miles. Its capacity for service will be increased materially by the new facilities.

As stated at a previous time, the Sisters of the Holy Cross have been planning for several years to make this addition to the hospital but have not until the present time found it possible to proceed with the building which is so greatly needed.

The space in the hospital has frequently not been equal to the demands, but the addition making provision for 60 new beds, will relieve this condition and make it possible to minister to a still wider area.

MUCH GRAIN WASTED BY CARELESSNESS.

Hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain are lost to consumption each year on American farms because of improper adjustment and lack of efficiency in the operation of threshing machines. The United States Department of Agriculture has given considerable attention to this loss with a view to ascertaining how far improved methods can be economically introduced to adjust waste. It is true, experts point out, that sometimes the time and labor involved in checking a small loss is worth more than the saving. Nevertheless, there are many leases on almost every threshing job which might easily be stopped if the farmer or machine operator would spend a few hours in the study of the problem and a few dollars in replacing worn and damaged parts.

Feeding the grain into the machine, adjustment of the cleaner, and other small items go to make up a total that may mean gain or loss. Much grain is wasted by failure to clean up at the end of the setting. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued Farmers' Bulletin 991, "The Efficient Operation of Threshing Machines," which contains much good advice on this subject. This bulletin may be obtained by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

NO FIRES ON THE FOURTH OF JULY

Chief Hunt said yesterday that the fire department did not respond to an alarm during the entire day, July 4. The chief has been a member of the fire department almost continuously as hoseman, assistant chief and chief for the last twenty-five years.

In that time he said he could not recall a Fourth when the fire department did not receive at least one call and sometimes several. It is probable that this condition was not duplicated in the years before Mr. Hunt became a member of the department.

SCOTT COUNTY MEN BURNED BY LIVE WIRE

Accident Happened on Roadway Near Winchester—Elmer Mitchell and Cortley McLaughlin Brought to Hospital Here

Lee McGuire, Frank Guinane, Elmer Mitchell and Cortley McLaughlin, all of Alsey, met with a bad accident Monday night while en route to Winchester. Three of the young men came into contact with a live electric wire.

Mitchell was the most severely burned and is in a very serious condition here at Passavant hospital. McLaughlin was also brought to the hospital, altho his injuries are not as serious as those of his companion. Dr. Fletcher brought the two lads to Jacksonville about midnight Monday and there they were attended by Dr. W. P. Duncan.

The accident happened about 8 o'clock Monday night. When the young men reached a point near the home of Edward McAsay southeast of town they got into some deep mud, and it was necessary for them to get out and push the car. Elmer Mitchell stepped upon an electric wire and was severely burned and shocked. Mitchell, McLaughlin and Guinane were all thrown to the ground in an unconscious condition. McGuire sent for assistance and George Cowlick, manager of the light plant, Dr. Fletcher and several others went to the scene of the accident.

They found Mitchell quite badly burned and he and McLaughlin were later removed to Passavant hospital. Mitchell had two toes on one foot and one toe on the other foot so badly burned that it was necessary to amputate the members. He was also badly burned on the arm and side. McLaughlin had one arm badly burned.

Mrs. R. W. Blucke and baby of 221 Caldwell street have returned home after a three weeks' visit in Springfield.

MISSOURI WOMAN OVER 100 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Mary Sharp Celebrates
101st Birthday at Montgomery
City—Came to State in 1838.

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., July 5.—Mary Harrison McGhee of Shelbyville, Ky., was at past 18 when she came out by steamboat and stage coach, to become a teacher in the Robson Ladies' Seminary at Danville, Mo. That was in 1838, and she has been a new-fangled, and often dangerous mode of travel.

She took this particular one week to reach St. Louis and Shelbyville, and then there was a stage trip still to make before she got to Danville, and she only knew what might happen to an unprotected school teacher in those untrammeled Missouri wilds, haunted by bear, deer, redskins and the like. They were glad to see Miss McGhee at Danville, for school teachers were not easy to get, and here was one with a wonderfully fine education—a graduate of Science Hall Seminary, back in Kentucky.

But the trouble was, when you did succeed in getting a school teacher that everybody liked, and a capable one, and one that got along well with the girls, some young blood who set his own interests above those of higher education would up and marry her. And Miss Mary was no exception to the rule. She taught a term and then young Benjamin Sharp carried her off to reside over his plantation near Montgomery City. There she made her home for fifty years; there her nine children came into the world, and from his plantation, young Doctor Sharpe went on horseback to care for the sick for many miles around.

The other day his widow—she who was Mary Harrison McGhee—celebrated her one hundred and first birthday anniversary. Five of the nine children are living and were there to help her celebrate the holiday. They are Mrs. Carrie S. Griffith, Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. C. W. Bibb, Mrs. Espie Berry, Nathaniel Sharp and Mrs. Emma Brandt, all of Montgomery City. The old plantation is still in Mrs. Sharp's possession.

SITE OF ARMAGEDDON IS TO BE EXCAVATED

John D. Rockefeller Has Given
$60,000 Toward the Task

Chicago (By A. P.)—The site of Armageddon in Palestine is to be excavated by the University of Chicago. Its authorities announced today that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has given $60,000 toward the task.

Armageddon or Megiddo is the place of the first battle that history knows the details of, and the Book of Revelation calls by its name the scene of the world's last battle.

The familiar Bible passage is this:

"For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty. And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon." Rev. 16: 14, 16.

In recent days the thrilling line used by Theodore Roosevelt is well known: "I stand at Armageddon and battle for the Lord."

"History's first detailed battle took place at Armageddon just 3,400 years ago," Dr. Thomas George Allen, secretary of the Oriental Institute at the University of Chicago, said here today. Mr. Rockefeller's gift was made to the institute, with an additional $100,000 for its other work.

"It was in 1479 B. C. that one of the kings of Egypt, Thutmose III, sought to extend his dominions over Palestine and Syria and to the Euphrates. For a hundred years before his predecessors had had a foothold there."

"The battle of Megiddo, took place in his first campaign. The local princes of Palestine and Syria formed a coalition and resisted vigorously. He took the city of Megiddo but not until the leaders of the native population had escaped. Had he captured it more quickly he would have saved himself many years of subsequent campaigning for it was 20 years until he completed his conquest."

"Thutmose III was the first Egyptian king to establish the Egyptian frontier as far as the Euphrates."

"Megiddo has been the scene of many subsequent battles, the last of which was fought by General Allenby against the Turks in the World War. While extending over a very great many miles, this battle is called by Allenby the Battle of Megiddo and he has been made Lord Allenby of Megiddo."

"Megiddo lies on a highway for armies. The town is near a pass in the Mount Carmel ridge to the north of Jerusalem, on the road over which the armies of Egypt and Asia have marched throughout history. The Turks have also tramped by it while the English last passed that way.

"Excavations in this great military highway will probably produce additional information about the course of some of the great campaigns of early history."

"Some work has already been done on the site by an Austrian. The University of Chicago has never before been engaged there. Much remains to be done."

"Nearly all of the excavations in the Near East have been rendered superficial by the lack of funds. The Germans put in 13 to 14 years on the site of Babylon when they were interrupted by the World War, and planned for a dozen years more."

"The University's work at Megiddo will be under the general direction of Dr. James Henry Breasted of the University of Chicago, head of its department of oriental languages and literature, a world renowned authority on the Near East. Who will be in charge of the expedition has not been announced."

OVERLAND TOURING Car for Sale Cheap CADILLAC Service Station

C. L. DEFEW RETURNS
FROM JOURNEY.

C. L. Depew has returned from an extended auto trip in the interests of his Sunday school work, having visited various points in Marshall, Putnam, LaSalle, Lee and Kane counties. Among other places visited was the famous resort, Grand Detour, and he had with him his daughter, Miss Marian Miller Depew, who is studying at the biological station of a Chicago university camp in Michigan, her topics being ornithology, etymology and bird photography. She is accompanied by Miss Whitmer who teaches the same branches at the Woman's College. At Lacon Miss Depew had the pleasure of meeting Miss Mitchell who graduated from the Woman's College some years ago and is a friend of Prof. Magoun Barnes, cousin of the late Charles A. Barnes, and a bird specialist. He has the largest private collection of birds and eggs in the world and it is only second in this country to the one in the national museum in Washington city. The gentleman showed Miss Depew all through his wonderful treasures and gave her much valuable information.

In Chicago she met Miss Margaret Constance, formerly teacher of expression at the Woman's College and Miss Taylor, formerly dean of the institution.

At Aurora she met Miss Margaret Hamilton connected with the physical department of the Y. W. C. A. and Miss Kittie Bunting in the same work. They too were very glad to see her and to give her some useful suggestions.

It is Miss Depew's intention to specialize in story telling and children's work. She is now in the junior year at the college and she expects to graduate next year she will be the last one who began in the College primary department to go on clear through to the end. The primary department was given up some time ago.

HELICOPTER HAS BEEN DEVELOPED

Austria Proves Invention That
Rises From Ground Vertically—
More Than 150 Feet—Will Be Great Thing for Aviation.

WASHINGTON.—(By A. P.)—A helicopter that in tests has already risen more than 150 feet vertically from the ground and has been developed in Austria, according to reports from a European correspondent of the National Advisory Board of Aeronautics. In view of the experiments now being conducted by aviators in many countries, particularly the United States, France and Great Britain, in an effort to design and construct a successful helicopter, the news is considered of great importance by flying men.

According to reports, the Austrian helicopter consists of a three armed, frame built of steel tubes, equipped with three built-in gasoline motors of the Le Rhone type, each developing in opposite directions and the shafts in turn drive two propellers arranged one above the other on a central shaft, each nearly 20 feet in diameter. The propellers are attached to the upper plane of the helicopter and revolve in opposite directions at about 600 revolutions a minute. In the center of "hub" of the device are the propellers, is the operating compartment which is also fitted with a machine gun and a place for the gunner.

In the tests so far conducted with the Austrian helicopter, according to reports, the machine has been kept captive by means of cables, allowing it to be hauled back to the earth at the conclusion of a flight by means of a winch. During one such test, the reports assert, the helicopter rose to a low altitude and remained in the air an hour. In another test the machine ascended about 150 feet, carrying a load equivalent to four men, and remained perfectly tranquil in a high wind.

The device is equipped with a parachute so arranged as to open automatically in the event of an abrupt descent, the reports say, adding that the parachute will so ease the fall as to prevent injury to the helicopter.

Advocates of the helicopter contend that the machine, if it can be perfected, will add a new and valuable weapon to aerial warfare. They assert that the device has all the advantages of the captive balloon and few of its disadvantages. The helicopter, they claim, is but slightly visible when in the air and therefore offers a small target to gunfire; can shoot directly upward at enemy aircraft overhead; is non-inflammable; requires much less ground equipment and personnel than a balloon and can be rapidly transferred from one place to another.

Naval aviators are interested in the helicopter idea, some of them believing the device may provide the best means of taking long distance observations from battleships. Captive helicopters, it is also said, would be useful for gathering meteorological data and for carrying radio antenna in places where radio masts to hold the aerial cannot be constructed.

So far as is known the Austrian helicopter, known as the Kermann, is the first device of the kind that has ever made a sustained flight to any height. Recent reports from Paris are to the effect that the Dambland helicopter now undergoing tests there, has shown considerable promise. The Dambland machine is operated by two rotating wings, each formed by four blades assembled on a cross bar and revolving about the axis of the wings on ball bearings. The device is equipped with two stabilizing planes operated from the fuselage and the motive power is furnished by two rotary 150 horsepower Rhone engines. The Dambland machine is designed to carry one man and fuel for about 30 minutes sustained fighting.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

"Amasika," a high school annual published by the Millwood high school of Spokane, Wash., is dedicated to the superintendent, Carl O. Gordon, '98. Mr. Gordon has met with great success in his school work on the Pacific coast.

Mrs. Jeanette L. Ogden left for her vacation on Friday. She will return about the first of September.

Subscriptions to the College Endowment Fund are being received every day. Among the subscriptions recently received are: One of $1,000 from some good friends of the college in Aronville, $500 from an alumnus of the class of '02, who had previously made a similar subscription, and $500 from a Chicago friend.

News was recently received of the death of two members of the class of '68—William F. Payerweather of Kansas City, Mo., and Hampton Gibson of Curran, Ill.

A suggestion made by President Rammelkamp, at the Phi Alpha Love Feast, that the time had come for the establishment of an Alumni Periodical seems to have aroused considerable interest. The Rambler hardly supplies the alumni with the news in which they are really interested. Undoubtedly an alumni paper will be established at the college in the near future.

The Quality of Pride

Pride is of various kinds. There is the kind, for instance, that has basis in work well done—the pride of performance. There is pride of family—there is pride of possession.

The quality of PRIDE is a laudable quality provided that that on which it is based is WORTHY and provided that it is exhibited GENUINELY and MODESTLY.

We are PROUD of the furniture we sell. We are proud because we know that customers we serve will be entitled to a proper pride in the HOMES that our furniture helps to make. They can be proud because of the GOOD TASTE, the comfort, the usefulness and the VALUE which is present in everything we sell.

Somehow we find it difficult to view our merchandise as "just merchandise." We have always in mind the place it will take in the HOME of the buyer and of the pride of possession to which every one is entitled to feel, and which every one CAN feel in the properly furnished home.

We will be proud to serve you well.

RADIO TELEPHONES ON PATROL WAGONS

Detroit, Mich. — Police patrol wagons in Detroit will be equipped with radio telephone sets if experiments being carried on prove satisfactory, officials of the department announce. Preliminary tests have proved the plan feasible, it is said. One patrol has been equipped with radio apparatus and officers in the machine talked with the operator at the central station without difficulty while the automobile was traveling at a high rate of speed. Police department officials state that if radio can be used successfully on patrol wagons it will be a great aid in directing the activities of policemen about the city and will make the green light signal system secondary.

Tuesday, conducted by Rev. Lee A. Hanchett, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

Native of Old Virginia The deceased's maiden name was Prettyman, and she was born at Alexandria, Va., near Washington, D. C., June 11th, 1824. She was one of seven children, two of whom survive, Mrs. Amelia H. Moore, age 86, and Mrs. Harriet Roodhouse, age 83, both of Washington, D. C., and both in good health. Our subject spent her childhood and young womanhood at and near Washington, D. C., and she was given every education and social advantage. She and Isaac D. Vedder were married February 15th, 1849, at Washington, D. C. Mr. Vedder was then connected with the patent office. One of the first corages of $2.50 gold pieces, a wedding gift to his bride, is still in the possession of the family.

In 1851 they came to White Hall by boat, landing at Grand Pass on the Illinois river, and coming from there to White Hall on a lumber wagon. The place then had 200 inhabitants. Mr. Vedder became a merchant, banker, wagon manufacturer, and during his final years he served as justice of the peace. He died February 24th, 1907, aged nearly 87 years.

Family Prominent The family always figured prominently in the social and political life of the community. Eight children grew to maturity, one child dying in infancy. The surviving children are Thomas A. of Terra Bonna, Oregon; Frank L. Roodhouse; Isaac D. Jr., White Hall; Richard P., Pueblo, Col.; Mrs. Nellie Stevens, Ogden, Kansas; Nannie, Ada, Minnie and Charles are deceased. There are eleven grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren. Mrs. Vedder was an early Methodist, and was active in the affairs of the local church until after the days of the Crane boys. She had literary attainments that were always put to the best use. She published a volume on "Reminiscences of the District of Columbia, or Washington City Seventy-nine Years Ago, 1830-1909," and a large number of copies are still in the possession of Isaac D. Vedder, Jr., at home, available to those for the asking who may be interested in it as a memorial to the worthy author. As part of the history of this prominent family a photograph is at the home showing all the eight children and the parents, then all at home, taken in 1880. By 1880 the children were scattered throughout the country. Isaac D. Vedder, Jr., occupies the original home place on North Main street, where he was born sixty years ago.

High School Boy in Business Stanley Thomas, a recent graduate of the high school with oratorical honors, has already embarked in the business field, and his example is worthy of emulation. Since school closed he has built a small store room adjacent to the home of his father, M. A. Thomas, on Lincoln street, and is just now getting ready for business with a line of staple groceries and notions. His venture is on the order of the neighborhood store, and he has the advantage of a neighborhood where he has no competition. It lies near the plant of the Western Stoneware Co. that has been idle for years, and he may vision the future when he will have a thriving business with this nearby factory teeming with industrial life.

What other recent graduates are going to do remains to be seen. Russell Jones has taken a linotype machine on the Register-Republican, for which he has been equipping himself during his high school years. Other of the graduates, of whom there were twenty-eight, have taken up clerical work, and several contemplate entering higher institutions of learning this fall, while some will take a business course. Young Thomas is the first to engage in business on his own account.

Injured by Fall Mrs. Emma Thorn made a misstep Sunday evening about 4 o'clock, resulting in a broken hip. She was about the household; she was making her home with Mrs. W. P. Lowenstein on North Main street; and the injury is serious. An X-ray examination was made this morning. Mrs. Thorn is 72 years of age. She is a Carrollton lady, but spent several years at San Francisco, having been at White Hall for the past year or two. Mrs. Ella Kelly, another member of the Lowenstein household, is just recovering from a badly sprained ankle.

T. E. Bentley came up from St. Louis Saturday evening and went out to Hillview to see the Fourth with H. M. Battershall and family. Mr. Bentley is chief dispatcher at the station for the Terminal Railroad Association, an important post that he has held for years. Mrs. A. E. Holsobach and son Edward, came up from St. Louis Sunday for an indefinite stay. Mrs. Minnie Peacock has been summoned from Peoria by the critical condition of her mother, Mrs. J. R. Toveray.

DIAMOND JUBILEE OF GERMAN METHODISM

Will Be Celebrated in Chicago the Coming Autumn — Illinois Conference Founded in 1846.

CHICAGO, July 2. — The diamond jubilee of German Methodism in Chicago will be commemorated this fall. It will be observed at the fiftieth annual session of the Chicago German Conference, which will fall on Aug. 31 to Sept. 4. Sessions will be held at the First German Methodist Episcopal Church of Chicago.

Addresses will be made by Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago, presiding bishop, the Rev. Henry Lemke of Milwaukee and the Rev. Dr. J. A. Mulfinger of Chicago. The closing sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. J. A. Diekmann of Cincinnati.

In a review of the history of German Methodism in Chicago, the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Loeppert, pastor of the First German Methodist Church, pointed out here today the notable Americanizing work the Methodist church had done here among newly arrived Germans.

Going back to the founding of his church Dr. Loeppert said: "When the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church convened in the fall of 1846, it definitely decided to open a mission in what at the time was but the sparsely settled town of Chicago, for the religious education of the German speaking population.

"A young, energetic and pious man by the name of Rev. Philip Barth was appointed the first missionary to the new work. He it was, who with his small family began the missionary work for the Methodist Episcopal Church among these people. In the spring of 1847, Rev. L. S. Jacob, presiding elder of the German work, came to Chicago for his first visit. The selection of a mission building site was made at this time.

"The general location of the building was evident. It should be located on the north side. The German speaking emigrants had located there in a group which made the center of activity comparatively easy to determine. The entire cost of the little building was $558. In November of that year, 1847, the dedicatory exercises were held.

"The Chicago fire of 1871 destroyed not only the factories, the schools, the homes and the private enterprises of those diligent people, but also the church and the parsonage. In this year the Chicago German Conference was organized.

"In 1873 a new building was dedicated with a debt of $7,000. The church rose to meet the demands on it. In all, thirteen missionaries were started by the members and descendants of the First Church.

"Hundreds of members of the German congregations as they prospered moved either to the outskirts of the city and to the suburbs where either the transportation facilities were slow and poor, or the cost of which would mean considerable within the year, and consequently joined

RELATIVES OF MISS WELLER VISITORS IN CITY

Walter Goltra of Houston, Tex., came to Jacksonville on account of the serious illness of his aunt, Miss Weller, who is a patient at Passavant hospital. Roy Goltra of Minneapolis is expected today. Mrs. Stone of Bradford and Mrs. William Cameron of Minneapolis, nieces of Miss Weller, are also here on account of her illness.

"Since the immediate neighborhood in which this church is now located is mostly inhabited by Slavs, Austrians, Hungarians, Italians and Germans, the First Church can and will minister to these peoples in such a manner that they may become not only Christians but Christian Americans."

LITTLE GIRL INJURED BY EXPLODING FIRECRACKER

Marian Saline Tendick of Roodhouse was severely injured Monday afternoon while shooting firecrackers. The child has been visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Tendick, in Murrayville and it was there that the accident happened. She picked up a firecracker and it exploded near her face. One eye was seriously injured and it was at first feared that the sight would be impaired. However, Dr. W. L. Frank, who was consulted yesterday, believes there will be no permanent injury.

A crowd of young people from Manchester drove to Jacksonville and spent the Fourth in the city. The party included Harry Dean, John Windsor, Robert Miller, Jesse Dean and John Kelley.

CLEVELAND MADE IT CLEAN SWEEP

Take Last Game From Chicago by Score of 16 to 4—Sox Make Thirteen Hits but Her Pitchers Lacked Control.

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Cleveland made it a clean sweep against Chicago by winning today's game 16 to 4. Allan Sothoron, former St. Louis and Boston pitcher, made his first start in a game for Cleveland and while the White Sox made thirteen hits off him he had good control and was effective with men on bases.

Lack of control was the principal fault of the Chicago pitchers.

REFUSES TO QUASH SOX INDICTMENTS

Judge in Trial of Baseball Players in 1919 World's Series Scandal Denies Motion of Defense—Begin Work of Selecting Jury.

CHICAGO, July 5.—The base ball trial passed the warming up stage today when Judge Hugo Friend denied a motion by the defense to quash the indictments against the Chicago White Sox players and others charge with conspiring to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati and the prosecution began cross questioning the special panel of 100 veniremen called for jury service.

Questioning of six men examined indicated that the state will depend primarily upon the testimony of men who are believed to have been in the alleged conspiracy and reported to have turned state's evidence.

The full list of witnesses read into the court record today by the state contained the names of William Burns, indicted but never apprehended, so far as publicly known and of Billy Maharg of Philadelphia. Maharg told many details of the alleged conspiracy in an interview with a newspaper man before any indictments were returned and state officials have said privately that it was thru his story primarily that a grand jury confession was obtained from Eddie Cicotte, White Sox pitcher.

Maharg was not indicted.

The examination of veniremen will be resumed tomorrow at 10 a. m.

LOW IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD RUINS A WOMAN'S HEALTH—
AND MAY MAKE HER WRINKLED, AGED AND CAREWORN, GIVING HER FAIR PALE, HAGGARD, SICKLY APPEARANCE

For want of iron you may practically be an old woman at from 30 to 35, weak, downhearted and "all fagged out." You may be in such a highly nervous irritable state that you "go all pieces" on the slightest provocation, while 100 or 200 with good health and plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling and so attractive and full of life as to defy censure of your real age.

It's not always the youngest woman that is not sought after—there is an indescribably young fascination in the rosy cheek, the sparkling eyes and sparkling lips of a blood-filled iron. You may be afflicted with iron starvation of the blood and not know it, just as thousands of other women are.

It is said that about one person in three in America today suffers more or less from malnutrition—lack of nourishment, which is caused by lack of food, but in many cases, by lack of sufficient iron in the blood to enable you to get strength and nourishment out of your food. Poor life, over-eating and modern methods of cooking are sapping the iron from the blood of hundreds of thousands of women. Our forefathers, to whom history refers as a nation of red-blooded Americans, ate the links of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and other

REDECORATING STORE
Internal decorating is in progress at the East State Street store of Mullenix and Hamilton. Painters are at work and the wood-work is to be redecorated in old ivory. The walls are also to be tinted in tones which will blend with the ivory and the whole store will present a very pleasing appearance when the workers finish.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson of Alexandria was a city shopper yesterday.

EVIL VANDALISM.
It will generally be conceded that Jacksonville has some fairly good pleasure resorts free to all and anyone acquainted with them will also agree that in many cases the privileges are abused to a very great extent. At Nichols park bathers will persist in dragging park benches into the water so they can dive from them. Two grown persons will get into a children's swing and go as high as they can until the chain breaks, not being meant for two adults.

At Duncan park some persons have shamefully misused the small pavilion or building in the center. That place is to be kept clean and anyone detected in polluting it will be dealt with most severely. All are welcome to play in these public places but not to abuse and soil them. The practice must stop.

A FORMER SECRETARY HERE
Alva C. Snyder, Y. W. C. A. secretary at Bartlettville, Oklahoma, was in the city yesterday interviewing old time friends. He was once Y. W. C. A. secretary here. He says the institution with which he is connected has budget of $48,000 and with cafeteria, rooms and the like, their income is $78,000, which is enough to keep the wolf from the door.

MILLER WAGONS
Made in Edina, Missouri for Fifty Years

There is perhaps no other article used on the farm in which the individual skill and knowledge of the builder is so necessary as in the manufacture of wagons.

No text book has been printed on wagon building; the craft is not listed in the curriculum of any school. The wagon maker does not graduate in a month or a year; his diploma is measured by the good name and demand for his product. His work shop may be in a wilderness; but if he builds right, the beaten path of patronage is the inevitable result.

There is a beaten path to the Miller Wagon plant in the little city of Edina, Mo. The high grades of Oak and Hickory of the Missouri hills and uplands have been hewn and chiseled into Miller Wagons, since the days of the Civil War; and today they are the some high grade goods they were in the days "When Johnny came marching home."

Americanization: By Hays

Col. George Harvey had a valet that he didn't want to take to England with him. So he "willed" him to Postmaster General Hays. Hays doesn't use a valet so he is making a stenographer of the young man. He is Andrew Louchion, a Greek who speaks several languages.

ONE OF THE PRESENT DAY MIRACLES
The Journal is neither affirming nor denying present-day miracles, but it is the mission of a newspaper to take notice of remarkable events. The fall of the huge maple tree in front of the Episcopal rectory in this city during the winstorm on July 4 was certainly an event of that character.

The tree stood less than twenty feet from the front of the house, and at a point about twenty feet from the ground it parted into two enormous branches, each at least twenty inches thick. The storm tore these two branches apart and hurled them to the ground.

Either of them was large enough to have crushed the building like an eggshell. But they fell, the one to the northeast, the other to the southeast, at right angles, and each missing the house by the smallest imaginable distance, the leafy branches actually sweeping its corners but not even marring its paint. Our readers are welcome to make their own explanations; we simply state the facts.

WOODSON.
Woodson now is about ready to behold the wheat roll out from the threshers.

The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church will serve dinner next Thursday and Friday for some of the threshing crews.

There were splendid audiences at both services at the Christian church last Sunday. Two young ladies confessed Christ and were baptized.

The Presbyterian Aid society will give a burgoon at the church lawn next Thursday.

Misses Mildred and Helen Hering of Denver, Ill., are visiting at the Christian church parsonage this week.

The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church is to have a furnace made for use at the chicken fry, which is to be on July 21st.

The attendance at the intensive bible study class on Wednesday evenings for July is fine. Come and see.

The severe wind storm that passed over Woodson Monday left a large tree on Jap Henry's house.

Mr. Staples of Parsons, Kan., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gallagher this week.

Miss Mada Mogginson and Miss Edith Watt spent Sunday with friends in White Hall.

Our little school house has on a new brown dress trimmed in white. It is on and looks nice and clean.

Our band boys are to begin the erection of a fine band stand on the school house grounds. That will be quite a nice addition to our village and will give the boys a cooler place for their practice.

All the members of Brooklyn church and Sunday school who expect to attend the picnic supper at Nichols park next Thursday are invited to meet at the corner of Bissell and South Main street at 4:00 p. m. and take the open car which has been chartered for that purpose.

Rev. Fuller and wife and the Misses Mildred and Helen Hering accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Taylor were in the city, from Woodson shopping.

A GREAT CELEBRATION.
The United Brothers of Friendship had a fine affair Monday on North Sandy street. They had charge of several blocks of the street and during the day dispensed fried chicken, fried fish and all sorts of soft drinks in regular carnival style. They had a barrel contest, swing contest, roller skating and various other pastimes during the day. At night calcium lights illuminated the scene and they had dancing and all sorts of good times. The committee in charge did their work admirably. They were W. H. Wright, chairman, F. Lewis, Roland Daly and W. N. Field, secretary.

The whole affair passed off in an orderly and proper manner.

Eye Fatigue
Like other parts of your body, your eyes are subject to fatigue. Consequently, if they tire easily, something is wrong, and they should have immediate attention.

Eye-weariness shows itself in blurred vision, in headaches, in nervousness, in twitching of the muscles about the eyes, etc.

If you have any of these symptoms let us examine your eyes.

Daily Market Report

FRESH WEAKNESS IN FOREIGN OILS

NEW YORK, July 5.—Resumption of business on the stock exchange after the triple holiday was signaled by fresh weakness in the foreign oils especially Mexican and South American issues.

Withdrawal from the Mexican field by American producers because of the alleged confiscatory export tax caused Mexico to its steady decline, the stock falling to 91, a new low record with only a feeble rally. Pan-American Petroleum also was heavy thrust with general asphalt. On the other hand Royal Dutch, chief of the European oils, made a substantial gain. Lower prices announced by the British Petroleum corporation caused extreme losses of 1 1/2 points in that group and American equipments, including Phillips and Baldwin.

United States Rubber was unmarked pressure the first half of the session but finished at a fractional gain. Sugars, shipwrecks and the high grade rails forfeited fractions to a point with Southern Pacific, a noteworthy exception. Sales amounted to 325,000 shares.

Call money opened at six per cent but release of July interest and dividend payments caused the rate to 5 1/2 per cent. A five per cent rate ruled in private negotiations.

German and Austrian exchanges were firm. Rates to the far east, especially China, Japan and India, strengthened. Liberty bonds were irregular but most other domestic issues and international including United Kingdom and Dominion of Canada were firm. Total sales (par value) $11,875,000.

CASH GRAIN REPORT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Owing to the strike of Chicago grain elevator employees there was some talk today of making carlots on track deliverable on contracts. Board of trade directors, however, seemed to believe that no such action would be taken. They said no emergency existed.

Carlot receipts were: Wheat, 175 cars; corn, 873; oats, 381; local cash sales were 150,000 bushels of wheat and 90,000 bushels of oats, including 50,000 c. i. f. Buffalo.

Cash wheat premiums dropped 1c to 5c today and the corn basis was 1c lower. The cash oats basis was off 1/2 to 3c.

REPORT IS MADE ON INSURANCE CLAIMS

Director of War Risk Insurance Shows Reduction of About 30,000 Claims in Last Three Months.

A reduction of 29,476 in the number of pending compensation and insurance claims of former service men and women has been effected during the last three months of the fiscal year ending July 1, 1921, it is announced today by Director C. R. Forbes of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. This reduction in the number of claims on which final action is still to be taken has been accomplished notwithstanding the fact that new claims have been reaching the bureau during that period at an average rate of from 700 to 800 a day, and that these new cases receive at once as complete action as is possible on the data presented.

On April 1, 1921, there were pending before the bureau 99,401 claims for compensation and 5,788 insurance claims; on July 1, 1921, the account stands 67,000 pending compensation claims and 3,025 pending insurance claims, while during that period of time 56,258 new claims have been filed with the bureau.

A determined drive toward the goal of a current basis in handling the claims of former service men has been instituted in the bureau. To this end a weekly chart is prepared and posted in each of the units of the Compensation and Insurance division. The chart is initiated and on this appears the number of waiting claims appertaining to that section and the estimated account as it should stand at the close of the week. Many of the units are now running ahead of their schedule of reduction of cases awaiting action.

All cases which have been pending for six months are now handled by telegram, the wires going to the claimant himself, to the district office of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance which is nearest to him, to some one of the welfare organizations co-operating with the bureau, or to any source from which information necessary to the adjudication of the claim may be obtained.

An intensive programme is being carried out in the Medical Division through the introduction of fifty additional doctors who were called from the district offices of the United States Public Health Service to aid in the drive, and, as a result, the Medical Division has succeeded, from May 15 to July 1 in handling approximately 50,000 cases. The experience in handling War Risk cases so afforded these doctors, temporarily detailed from field service, will be of further assistance and value to the work of adjudicating War Risk Bureau claims when the doctors shall have returned to the field and when legislation may have made the establishment of regional offices with authority for complete action on cases an accomplished fact.
